Newsletter Monday 28, 2014 Next meeting Monday, May 5, 2014

Steve Poli opened the meeting with the pledge, and Hal Jr. gave the Blessing. Steve reported on the District Conference that he and George partially attended on Sunday. George expressed his appreciation to Steve for nominating him for the Rotarian of Excellence recognition award.

Steve distributed the Rotary 315 booklet published by the District. The booklet provided a good description of the Rotary clubs in our district and their meeting times. You are encouraged to support the booklets advertisers. The printing of the booklet was done by Jacobs Press of Auburn, NY. The owner is a Rotarian and a fine job he did.

Speaker Presentation: Nancy Fasoltd from the Post Standard “Reading the Newspaper on Line”

Nancy has recently retired from the Post Standard having been a writer, Editor and administrator for the paper. She enthusiastically talked about the changes the paper has made, and the evolvement of the digital edition of the post Standard. For those subscribers be they a weekly subscriber of a Sunday only you are entitled to use the ePost-Standard absolutely free. Nancy demonstrated the apps for this edition and taught us how to navigate the web site. While you are not turning paper the e edition is identical to reading the paper. In fact it is better. You can enlarge the type, access any section easily and even print articles and crossword puzzles. I’m sold on it.

The ePost-Standard can be accessed from a computer, I Pad, an Android tablet, and a smart phone. Hand-outs to assist you were distributed. Thanks Nancy for an excellent presentation.

Note: On April 28TH Rotary Drivers have been invited to the Meals on Wheels Appreciation Diner. Let's try to put a table together.
