January Newsletter

What better topic to address in January is that of our weather. We have seen tempratures go way below 0 to the 50's within weeks.

At our next meeting we will be inducting 3 three new Rotarians: Richard Martin sponsored by Cynthia Drake, Brian Conboy sponsored by Brian Kesel, and Amanda Perrine sponsored by Susan Morgan.

At our January 9th meeting we had Ian Richardson from the Hillside Children's Center who provides integrated community services for children and families. And At our January 16th meeting we had John Bruzdinski, Director Peace, Inc., Big Brothers Big Sisters who talked about the three Bigs and Littles. A mentoring program that is based in three areas: those in the Community based (Adult One to One mentoring 8 to 10 hours a month), School based (College and High School students mentor Elementary school students), and Corporate based participation (Littles are transported to the corporate workplace and the program takes place on-site under supervision of a Mentor Manager). Applications to become a Big Brother or Big Sister were given to the president and anyone interested please contact George.

50/50

We were on January 9th down to 2 cards. The room was filled with high hopes and suspense as the 50/50 ticket was drawn. Neal Quigley drew the winning ticket then elected to choose a card. The choice was between the King of Spades and the Queen of spades. Drawing the Queen would have a win of $494.00. A drum roll was heard and Neal drew his card. He drew the King of Spades and the Queen lives on to evade us for another new deck. The pot now has grown to $500. On 1/16 George drew the winning stub and chose to uncover the queen. Not to happen, he drew the 4 of spades. Come to future meetings to learn of the ability of the Queen to evade the members who draw or become a conqueror and big big winner.

President George is compiling a list of members how would like to either visit another club meeting and or participate in another club's community service. Both George and Tony Adorante will be going to the Grants seminar on January 24th at 6 pm in Canastota Public Library.

Anyone else interested in going contact George, 315 952-2256.

Next Meeting: January 23, 2018 12:30 PM at the Copper Top Restaurant.

Things I have learned

Everywhere is in walking distance if you have the time.

Half the people of the world are below average.
